BAHIA BLANCA.

The frequency of wrecks in the port of Bahia Blanca suggests the necessity of the Nat. Government adopting some measures to protect the mariner and facilitate the navigation at the mouth of that immense bay, which in truth is of such vast dimensions that it may be termed more an arm of the sea than anything else. We would propose to the Minister that the first step is to put up a telegraph station at Monte Hermoso, connecting with the telegraph office in the town of Bahia Blanca, which would abolish the present ridiculous one-horse chasque business carried on there, and which is unworthy of the important shipping trade at present carried on at that port. Even in Patagones, which is a port of much less trade than Bahia Blanca, they have a telegraphic service between the mouth of the Rio Negro and the town of Patagones. Another very desirable step, which we would impress upon the War Minister, is the urgent necessity of putting a light-ship at the first buoy, or if not a mast-head or something prominent to attract the attention of captains and show them from afar where the first buoy exists, as in that immense expanse of waters it is very difficult for even the most experienced captain of our steamers to find the first buoy. How much more difficult, is it not, for the ship captains of foreign vessels groping their way for the first time at the mouth of the bay, and with really nothing to guide them save the hill top of Monte Hermoso? Conceiving that Captain Howard's description of the mouth of the Bay may prove useful, we give the following extract—

The bar forming the entrance to the Port Belgrano, begins at the eastern extremity of the bank known in Fitzroy's Chart as 'the Northern' and whose situation, according to same, is Lat. 39 deg. 9 min. S. and Long. 61 deg. 35 min. West of Greenwich. Captain Elsgood's description differs somewhat with regard to situation. The only means of discovering the entrance is by a post erected on the top of Monte Hermoso. The Northern Bank is an immense sand-bank running nearly from South-East to North-West. Its Southern side forms one of the margins of the channel at present buoyed, and the Northern one, which joins with Punta Tejada, forms with the land the Monte Hermoso anchoring grounds. From its beginning to a distance of 6 miles in a Northerly direction, vessels drawing 15 feet can enter at low tide and in good weather. I would not advise any captain to enter here unless the weather is very good and he perfectly understands his position. Coasting the Southern side of the bank a channel is situated which does not figure as such in Fitzroy's Chart, but as a kind of harbour formed by the junction of the "Northern" and "Gaucho" banks. Since the year 1833 when Fitzroy published his Chart, the positions have notably changed. The harbour does not at all now exist, and there is a good passage at low tide for vessels drawing 20 feet and upwards.

However, this channel is not recommended as a means for vessels to enter this port, the great inconveniences being the heavy sea which is always to be met with, caused by the breakers on the Gaucho and Northern banks, and the strong current which the closed in waters create: its margins are without a doubt, very visible at low tide, and its depth gradually diminishes as it approaches the bar.

At the eastern extremity of the Gaucho bank runs a sand bank, whose depth rapidly diminishes, and whose proximity is known by the depth of its oozy bottom. The sea is constantly breaking over both sides of this channel, which naturally, even in fine weather, presents a threatening appearance. The eastern extremity of the Gaucho bank separates the principal channel or 'Gateway,' already described and a slight deviation of the compass would be sufficient to mistake the road.

To-day this mistake would nearly be impossible. In the "Canal del Saco" the masts of the pontoon 'Manuelita' loom out of the water, and the main channel is buoyed.

The Gaucho bank forms two arms whose vortex constitute the Western extremity. One of them extends towards the east, some 3,500 metres, and the other towards the south-east, some 7,000 metres. The southern extremity of the south-east arm forms one of the margins of the main channel, and it is so free from rocks and shoals that at a half a cable's distance it measures 9 arms of water. A sailing vessel that has to tack, can come in as far as this; the sea always breaking over it, serves as a signal.

The confines of the eastern arm form, with the large Northern Bank, the false channel of Monte Hermoso. It is not so free of obstacles as the south eastern arm, and the depth of water as it is approached diminishes rapidly."

Owing to the great length of Captain Howard's paper we are obliged to stop here, but shall continue his description and remarks at our earliest leisure.

RAILWAY TO BOLIVIA.

Many projects have been presented to the Argentine Government for the construction of a railroad from the terminus of the Central Northern Railway to the heart of Bolivia since 1879; the West Coast war gave much interest to schemes that were intended to neutralize the enterprise of the Chilians who sought to attract the trade of the Mediterranean Republic to the Pacific sea-board. Whilst the Chilians proposed several lines of railroad from the Interior of Bolivia to the ports on the Pacific, both Argentines and Bolivians were canvassing for the concession of a railroad from Tucuman to Tupiza, Lucre and other important Bolivian towns.

The fate of these many schemes was foreseen; they have all dropped into the waste-paper baskets of the Government House. The parties who backed these laudable efforts were not influential enough to drive a bill through Congress or the Cabinet. The Argentine Government, meantime, has been watching with interest the growth of commercial relations between this country and Bolivia and the surprising advance of the transit trade with the neighboring republic. The figures last year shewed that this transit trade represented a value of close on £3,000,000 stg., double the figure, if not treble, of the trade of 1881.

The aim of the Argentine Government has been a constant effort to extend the Tucuman or Central Northern Railway to Salta and Jujuy, and thence to the confines of Bolivia. Before the completion of the actual extension, which is advancing very slowly, none can expect any energetic push to reach the heart of Bolivia. The Bolivian Government, although engaged in war, has financially suffered little or no loss, as there was little or nothing to spend; the dream, therefore, of a railroad to the heart of Bolivia and built by the Bolivian Government is very far from realization. Bolivia has little credit, and whatever hopes the Argentine Government may entertain of the construction of a line to Chiquisaca or Tupiza, the burden of the enterprise must necessarily rest on its shoulders, if not entirely, at least by far the greater part of it.

The Bolivian Minister in this city, Mr. Omiste, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Dr. Plaza, have held a conference on the subject, and to all intents and purposes it appears that the Bolivian Government is most anxious to witness the construction of the line. Both Governments are agreed upon the great convenience of a railway, and preliminary arrangements for surveys and plans have already been made. All hope that the enterprise will be crowned with success, but years must elapse before we witness its realization.

The extension of the Central Northern Railway has only advanced twenty-five kilometres in one year, and at this rate, making allowance for a little increased speed in the works, the line will not reach Jujuy before ten years. Ten years hence, very probably, Bolivia will find itself in circumstances that may be more favourable than the present for the launching of a loan to secure the funds necessary for the completion of the line. The Argentine Government is too much occupied with the completion of local railroads to begin now the Bolivian railroad, which will, no doubt, give a great impetus to the commercial relations and expansion to the trade of the Southern and central parts of Bolivia. Under the present circumstances merchandise is months and months on the way to Bolivia, and the freight expenses are exorbitant — if under such unfavourable conditions the present trade amounts to £3,000,000 stg., what expansion may we anticipate when roads join both countries? The idea is excellent, but it is premature for the moment, and as we stated before, many years must elapse before we see the realization of a dream which depends on the credit of Bolivia and the capital that this Government can apply to same.

The Bolivian Railway, the Bahia Blanca and Chile Railway, the Bahia Blanca and Nahuel-Huapi Railway, etc., etc., are great schemes that must be locked up in ministerial desks until the demands of labour on one hand and the supply of capital on the other warrant the execution of schemes which at present, viewed in a most roseate light, are to say the least, premature.

THE NOVILLO.

Happily for the interests of this country, our remarks on the Novillo, in Congress, have found some slight echo, and at the adjourned discussion of the Bill yesterday, the Free Meat export clause was passed; the language of the Bill being so general as to include meat of every kind, whether dried in the sun, salted, jerked, 'charqueado,' frigorified, boiled down in pots, or baled, as they are now doing in Montevideo. Meat of every class and description will from the beginning of next year go free of every export charge, and as there are vessels out here now preparing to load cargoes of mutton for Leadenhall-street, London, we doubt not the Minister of Hacienda will exempt those cargoes from all duties, and allow the meat to be shipped free without waiting for the beginning of the new year. We give at foot a 'precis' of this most interesting debate, and doubt not that Clause 2, giving the exemption for a stated number of years will be also passed at the next session. Congress men are at last awakening to the broad fact that the Novillo is one of the grandest of all staples when utilized and handled by science, but without which, we might have the camps covered with fat novillos, and yet be all poor indeed, since we lacked the way, the means, and the brains to utilize the beef. There are at this moment six millions of fat 'capones' in this Province for sale, and yet not a 'graseria' working.

The following is the debate:—

Deputy Calvo opened the debate and quoted numerous figures to show the expediency of allowing the products of the country to be exported free of duty, as was done in the United States, Australia and other countries that produced food and raw materials. He also dealt with the Constitutional aspect of the question, and claimed for Congress the right to pass laws affecting the Revenue at any time during the session. He would vote for the Committee's Bill, to exempt from export dues all meat, no matter how preserved.

The Finance Minister said he did not challenge the right of Congress to pass what laws they pleased at any time of the year, but he questioned the expediency of using the right in the present case, as he believed that the question was one that ought to be included in the Customs Law, and be part of a general financial plan. The Government had already announced its intention to suppress the export dues. He did not think it prudent to disarrange the Budget in the middle of the year by suppressing part of the taxes.

Deputy Galindez supported the Bill and said there was no danger as to deranging the Budget, as the exemption of the saladeros from the tax would only commence on January 1st 1884. He thought that no difference should be made, whether the meat was preserved by freezing or by salt.

Deputy Lagos Garcia also opposed all export duties. He would like to see the Constitution faithfully observed in reference to export duties, as it only allowed them up to the year '66.

Deputy Legnizamon supported the Bill and said that the export tax was killing the saladeros.

Deputy Achaval supported the Bill but said that the clause suppressing export tax for ten years was somewhat unconstitutional, as such taxes were naturally dealt with annually; he thought the exemption should be limited to one year.

Deputy Astigueta briefly supported the views of the Finance Minister.

The House then divided, and Art. 1 was passed by a large majority, the discussion of Article 2 being deferred till the next sitting.

The Municipality of New York has presented Mr. Alvear with a magnificent diploma or copy of resolutions, beautifully engrossed on parchment, and signed by the Mayor of New York and with the Municipal seal; the whole enclosed in a costly Turkey velvet case, which shows how highly the New York Municipality appreciated the gold medal sent them by the Municipality of Buenos Aires. London, May 5th.

The Earl of Northbrook, in reply to a question in the House of Peers yesterday, said that the Admiralty and the War Office had under consideration the recommendations of the Royal Commission for the defence of British possessions and commerce abroad.

In the House of Commons the Speaker having read a letter from Mr Bradlaugh requesting to be called to the table to be sworn, intimated that he awaited the instructions of the House. Thereupon Sir S. Northcote proposed to reaffirm the resolution of last session prohibiting Mr Bradlaugh from taking the oath. Mr. Labouchere moved the "previous question," which Mr Gladstone supported; but, after Mr. Bradlaugh had been allowed to speak at the bar in defence of his claim, Sir S. Northcote's resolution was carried by 271 votes to 165. A motion by Mr. Samuelson in favor of making the Railway Commission a permanent Court of Record and extending its powers was accepted by the Government.

A Washington telegram states that up to Thursday evening the British Legation in that city had received no despatches from England concerning the extradition of Tynan, Sheridan, and Walsh.

It is announced from Victoria (British Columbia) that the steamship Grappler has been burned near Bute Inlet, and that fifty of her passengers have perished.

Recent advices from St. Petersburg hint at reductions of taxation, remissions of debts and fines due to the State, and pardons of criminals as likely to be decreed by the Czar upon the occasion of his coronation.

As at present arranged, the first formal meeting of the Conference a Quatre will take place at Vienna to-morrow afternoon.

Our Dublin correspondent states that information has been received at the Castle of the arrest at New York of Sheridan and Walsh, two of the founders of the "Invincibles."

Rumours come from Ireland that one of the leaders of the murder conspiracy in New York—some say "No. 1"—has turned informer, and has been supplying the British authorities with intelligence as to the various dynamite plots.

Laurence Hanlon's trial for the attack on Mr Field was concluded in Dublin, yesterday, when the prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to penal servitude for life. Fitzharris, the cabman, was put forward on the charge of aiding in the escape of persons implicated in the murder of Mr. Burke. He pleaded not guilty, on which the Court adjourned until Monday.

Further progress was made in the examination of the members of the "Vigilance" murder organisation in Dublin yesterday, when Lamie, another of the approvers, generally corroborated the evidence of Devine as to the object and conduct of adherents of that association.

With a view to preparing evidence to be submitted to the House of Commons' Committee before which the District Railway bills are to come, the Metropolitan Board of Works has sanctioned an expenditure of £1,500 on experiments to show that the line may be ventilated without openings into streets or other open spaces.

At a meeting of Civil Service clerks of the lower division in Exeter Hall, the Playfair scheme was denounced as unsatisfactory, and an inquiry with a view to the revision of the present system was demanded.

The annual festival of the Provident Clerks Benevolent Fund was celebrated last night, when Mr. W. H. Smith, M. P., presided, and the subscription list showed a total of over £4,000.

Scoines, tried at the Central Criminal Court for the manslaughter of his wife, was acquitted, and, pleading guilty to a common assault, was yesterday sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment.

A decline occurred in the stock markets yesterday. Nearly all the Home railways gave way, the principal movement –about 2 per cent.—being in Great Northern "A." Grand Trunks were lower, but American lines exhibited firmness, and Mexican ordinary rose 2, on the announcement of a dividend at the rate of 14 per cent. per annum. Foreign bonds were in request in the morning, but closed flatter. About £50,000 in gold was withdrawn from the Bank for export.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

Rio, May 23.

In the Deputies on the 14th instant the pending issue between the Chamber and the Cabinet of Visconde de Paranaguá was brought to a crisis by a motion of Sr. José Mariano Carneiro da Cunha, of Pernambuco, to postpone the Army Bill, and all other bills on the order of the day, until the Government had "furnished information on the state of the provinces and on the means for meeting the necessities arising from the repealing of the so-called unconstitutional taxes."

The Minister of Foreign Affairs at once accepted the challenge, and declared that the Government would consider the vote on the motion as one of confidence.

On the motion being put, 38 Conservatives and 15 Liberals voted for it and 40 Liberals against, whilst 16 Conservatives and 10 Liberals were absent, and the President did not vote.

The motion being carried by 53 to 40, Sr. Paranaguá at once telegraphed to Petropolis, and next day went thither to personally place the Ministry's resignation in the hands of the Emperor, who commanded Senator Saraiva, who was still in Bahia, to be telegraphed for.

On the 21st Senator Saraiva arrived, but declined the offered charge of organizing a Cabinet or to suggest anyone.

Visconde de Paranaguá then indicated Senator José Bonifacio de Andrade e Silva, who, however, declared on the 22nd his inability to undertake the formation of a Cabinet.

Senator Dantas was then invited to do so, and, after some hesitation, promised to give a definite reply in the forenoon of to-day (23rd).

Conselheiro Manoel Pinto de Souza Dantas having definitely declined. Senator Lafayette Rodriguez Pereira has been invited, but up to going to press nothing definite has become known.

Conselheiro Francisco de Carvalho Soares Brandao has been recognised duly elected, and therefore entitled to his seat in the Senate as Senator from Pernambuco.

By decree of May 15, Arts. 556 and 578 of the Tariff are changed to:—Cassimeres, cassimettes and cloths, thick, with or without mixture of silk, 1$ per kilogram; of any other quality, do do, 2$200 per kilogram.

An agreement modifying some provisions of the extradition treaty of 1878, between Brazil and Uruguay, has been signed.

On the 16th 1,400 "Bell" telephones from the United States were seized in Rio, by order of the Criminal Judge of the 4th District, on application of the Companhia Nacional de Electricidade, which has acquired the sole rights in Brazil of A. G. Bell's telephones, whose United States patent recently received confirmation in Brazil, under the new Patent Law. The importers allege that the embargoed instruments were bought in New York from Bell's agents, and also were imported before Bell's patent received confirmation in Brazil.

Yellow fever seems inclined to fulfil the prognostications of the medical men who feared that the rains which inundated the city at the end of April would cause an increase of the epidemic, as, instead of continuing the decline noticed at the early part of the month, the city mortuary returns show increase of late, the range since our last being 7 to 13 daily.

The President of Sergipe is calling for tenders, receivable to July 9th, for a monthly line of direct steamers between Aracajú and Liverpool, calling at Lisbon, Havre and Antwerp, and receiving cargo for London. Term ten years, and subsidy 40:000$ per annum.

The fall of the Paranaguá Cabinet took few by surprise, as its retiral early in the session was looked upon as a matter of course, in view of the disorganization of the Liberal party and of the difficulty any Ministry will experience in resistance to the pressure to relieve the financial straits of the provinces at the expense of the Imperial revenue. It is said, however, that as the Minister of Agriculture was sick and his colleagues were at least as sick and his compromising loquacity in his despatches, they eagerly seized upon the opportunity afforded by Sr. Mariono's motion to transfer the difficulties of the situation to other shoulders and die gracefully. It seems, however, that the sacrifice was made unnecessarily, as three days later came the telegram of the death of the Consul in Paris, and so great is the anxiety of political men for the high profits and pleasant accompaniments of an official residence in the "centre of civilization," that the Ministry might easily, by skilful angling, have prolonged its rule for another twelve months.

The situation is very embarrassing, and no Ministry that is formed can hope to direct the course of legislation. In the Senate the Conservatives have a large majority and in the Deputies hold 44 seats in the 120 now occupied, so that neither the Conservatives nor either of the fractions into which the Liberal party is always tending to separate can command a majority. The usual course in such a deadlock of parties would be a dissolution, which there is little doubt would at present result in a majority of Conservatives, but the question of the provincial finances is a pressing one, and the Deputies, both Liberal and Conservative, are loth to trust themselves to constituencies which, under the new electoral law, are by no means as manageable as formerly. As for the people in general, they appear to view the crisis with profound indifference to the solution.

It seems impossible to please the would-be Marats, whose unceasing and foul abuse of all our public characters gives such a disagreeable personality to a part of the cheap Press. At present they are all in full cry because the Comte d'Eu has shown the reality of his adoption of Brazil as his country and his faith in its institutions and future weal by investments of capital in lands. Had he refrained from doing so, the yeldings would have been tenfold louder, if possible.

It is impossible not to feel disgust at the last number of the Revista Illustrada, devoted to the tiresome Copacabana question. Not the most thoroughgoing partizanism of the Botanical Gardens tramway company could excuse in natives such indecent attacks on the private integrity and morality of one who, had he no other claims to the esteem of the Brazilian people and of foreigners, is entitled to be spared, as the head of the nation and its representative in the eyes of foreign countries, from such attempts to ridicule and demoralize—attempts which are the more cowardly as it is well known that it is only his resolution not to allow notice to be taken of attacks upon him personally that secures the impunity thus abused. They may perhaps suit the views of certain "quand meme" republicans whose hatred of monarchy blinds them to the cowardice of assailing with malignant insinuations the unresisting chief of the State, and makes them forget that, in this pandering to the besetting sin of calumny and to the growing disrespect for all authority, parental as well as governmental, which is undermining Brazilian society, they are fostering great evils and are preparing troublous times for their country. But foreigners, as the proprietors of the Revista Illustrada are, should at least refrain from such insults to the chief of the State, were it only to show decent respect to the laws that protect them and to the nation whose hospitality they enjoy.

Quillinan demonstrations continue in the order of the day in Portuguese circles in Brazil, and the lively Lisbon correspondent of the Gazeta de Noticias, Sr Ramalho Ortigao, has just delighted the Portuguese mind by the information that England never gave to the world anything but patent cloth, Darwinism and water-closets, the second of which was stolen from Lamark. We hope, however, that the Quillinan example will not be followed in other diplomacies and that the next time Deputies Joao Penido and Andrade Figueira bring the English and England over the blazing coals of their anglophobia no English secretary of legation will think it incumbent on him to invite those gentlemen to a dejeuner a la pistolet or 'a l'epee.' It would be really too much of a good thing if figurative diplomatic sparring had to be converted every now-and-then into diplomatic corporal encounters, especially as not every patriotically belligerent secretary of legation could expect to have the same luck as Major Quillinan in alighting upon a non-combatant quaker-like Jacob Bright.

CHASCOMUS.

DOLLAR READINGS.

One of these social entertainments, for which this town has earned a well-deserved name, was given here on Thursday last. On this occasion several ladies and gentlemen of musical and literary ability formed themselves into a committee for the carrying out of the desirable object of providing a social evening, called "Dollar Readings," and having enlisted the services of some kindred spirits in the neighbourhood, found that a very fair and delectable programme could be accomplished. The commodious English School-room was crowded with visitors, among whom we observed Dr. Rodman, Dr. Osborne, and Messrs. John Dodds, Auld, MacCallum, Stanholm, Hancock, Pearce, Fair, Calastreme, Srs. Berro, Burdeo, &c.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers, flags, and evergreens, by Mrs. Hugh Robson, assisted by several young ladies. The weather, fortunately, favoured the gathering, and the day was ushered in with bright sunshine and refreshing zephyrs.

The first piece was the "Prologue," in verse, in which the objects of the meeting were humorously set forth by the Rev. M. P. Ferguson. This was followed by an instrumental trio of violin, piano and flute, called the "Highland Wreath," bringing in some popular Scottish airs, and was well received. The next piece, the well-known and favourite duet, "All's Well," by Mr. S. Jones and Mr. J. Gibson, whose voices blended in pleasing harmony, elicited much applause. An original song, entitled a "City Ditty," descriptive of Chascomus, composed and sung by Miss L. Herbert, was greatly enjoyed and appreciated. Mr. R. A. Hill, of the "Estancia Aroma," gave a solo on the piano with artistic power and sweetness. This gentleman also sang two beautiful songs with marked effect, named "Sailing" and the "Steel-clad Ships of England." His accompaniments also to various songs helped greatly to the success of the evening. Several young gentlemen, lately from Rome, kindly volunteered their noble services, and quite captivated the audience with their musical abilities and the winning suavity of English "hauteon."

Mr. Hunter sang "Macpherson's Feud" in true Scotish style, and the refrain still lingers in the ears of all the young ladies. The last piece of the first part, "A motto for every Man," by Mr. S. Jones, was given with his accustomed vigour, and was loudly encored. The "Himno Argentino" was rendered by several of Mr. Jones's pupils in a manner that testified their master's able tuition.

The second part was pleasingly opened with a duet on the piano by the Misses Ferguson. This was succeeded by the favourite song, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," by Mr. J. Gibson, and was enthusiastically encored. The audience seemed to regret that he did not repeat the song, as he did not seem to be so much at home in the "Better Land," which he gave in response.

One of the young gentlemen, whose presence gave such a zest to the pleasure of the evening, sang "La-di-do," and in this the singer, Mr. Lowry, seemed to the manner born, and in his natural role. He afterwasds sang the "Midshipmate," in genuine sailor style.

Mr. Jones next gave "Jones's Musical Party," and here he eclipsed himself in previous efforts, and the audience were quite enraptured with the inimitable representations of different voices, soprano and baritone. Having been encored, Mr. Jones sang another of Harry Clifton's comic songs.

Mr. Fair having played a pleasant piano solo, the programme was concluded with 'God Save the Queen," led effectively by Miss Herbert, the whole compeny joining in the chorus. Afterwards there came the inevitable dance, and all the young ladies and gentlemen present enjoyed a few fleeting hours with ineffaceable satisfaction.

Scriblerus,

AN INTERESTING EXPLORATION

THE BARILOCHE PASS.

(From the Chilian Times)

Our enterprising countryman, Mr. Robert Christie, has again distinguished himself as an intrepid explorer in the uninhabited regions of the south. The Government having resolved to fit out an expedition for the discovery of the Bariloche road or pass in the Andes, by means of which communication was maintained between Ralun and the missionary station of Nuestra Señora de Nahuel-Huapi in the seventeenth century, Mr Christie was selected by the Intendente of Lanqui-Hueto to lead the enterprise. An agreement was entered into on January 8th, and a week later, January 15th, Mr Christie, accompanied by six assistants, left Port Montt in a boat in the direction of the estuary of Reloncavi, which he ascended to the debouchure of the river Petrohue in Ralun Bay. From this point the expedition proceeded on foot along the bank of the mountain torrent Reloncavi to lake Cayutué. At this point four of Mr Christie's followers, either from fatigue or fear, refused to proceed any farther. No way disheartened by the "contretemps" Mr. Christie resolved to push ahead with his two remaining followers, a Chilian and a German, and loaded with provisions, and carrying their firearms, they skirted the south bank of Lake Cayutué, and then following the course of the river Concha they reached the summit of the Andes, after traversing almost impenetrable forests, in which their clothing was torn from their persons, and enduring great hardships. Up to this point Mr Christie had discovered no vestiges of the road he was in quest of, but after an assiduous and laborious search, in which he traversed this part of the country three times it as many different directions and crossed the Andes thrice, he came upon it at last. He then marched along the summit of the Cordillera to the head of the river, without a name, which discharges itself into Lake Nahuel-Huapi. All this tract is devoid of vegetation, the surface is almost level or only slightly broken, and it is free from snow all the year round.

The expedition then followed the bed of the before-mentioned nameless river, which, after passing to the south of the Tronador mountain, converges to the north-east, and finally falls into Lake Nahuel-Huapi. The time employed by Mr. Christie was 37 days, during the last three of which the expedition suffered from the want of provisions. The Bariloche road can be re-opened at a comparatively trifling cost, and Mr. Christie has left Port Montt again with a gang of men to open a way through the forest, so that Lake Nahuel-Huapi may be reached on horseback. The Argentine papers made a great fuss a short time ago about the discovery of the Bariloche Pass by an Argentine expedition, but Mr. Christie reports that nowhere did he discover the slightest indication that the pass or the surrounding country had been visited by an exploring party. The honour of the discovery belongs, therefore, to Mr. Christie, and on his return from the second expedition he has undertaken, we believe it is his intention to furnish the Government with plans, sketches, and other particulars of the country traversed by him, and also an estimate of the cost of re-opening the road.

Lake Nahuel-Huapi, which signifies Tiger Island, is a large sheet of water, much larger than that of the Llanquihue, lying in the middle of the Cordillera in about 41 deg. 15 min., and at an elevation of 537 metres above the level of the sea. Towards the north-east it has an island of from 12 to 15 kilometres in length, from which it derives its name of Nahuel-Huapi or Tiger Island. It lies about 45 kilometres to the east of Lake Todos los Santos. It was discovered about the year 1610 by missionaries from Chiloe, who established a small mission on its banks, which was completely destroyed by the Indians in 1655. Four years later it was re-established on the island in the lake by Father Nicolas Mascardi, but on the death of this missionary in 1663 it fell into decay. It was founded once more in 1705, but, after a precarious existence it was again abandoned in 1718 in consequence of the hostility of the natives, and the difficulty, owing to the great distance, of providing it with succour and aid from Chiloé. The Intendente of Llaquihue is of opinion that the opening up again of the Bariloche road will be productive of very great benefit to that province.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The Congo's mails came up early yesterday morning, but we did not receive our letters or papers till late in the afternoon, the General Post Office rule being that French correspondence is delivered first when it comes by a French steamer, English first by an English steamer, and so on. The news is most important. Colonel Hicks has defeated the False Prophet in the Soudan and sent that worthy to rejoin Mahomet in another world. Delaney and Caffrey, the Invincibles, have pleaded guilty and been condemned to death. Fitzharris ("Skin the Goat") has been acquitted. The Dublin Grand Jury have found true bills for murder against Tynan, Walsh and Sheridan (Nos. 1, 2 and 3) and the United States Government has agreed to extradite them. The Fenians have warned the shopkeepers near St. Pauls to look out, as the Cathedral will be blown up. France has caused a sensation by sending several ironclads to the China seas. The British troops are to remain in Egypt for five years. A letter containing explosives was sent to Mr Forster. Our esteemed subscriber King Kalakawa, of the Sandwich Islands, sent a special Ambassador to the Czar's coronation.

We hear the odds against San Blas for the Derby were at one time 100 to 7. His sire Hermit started for the Blue Ribbon at 40 to 1, and won it.

The hosts of friends of the Rev. James Smith will be glad to hear of the pleasing news that awaits him on his arrival home. His "Alma Mater," the University of Glasgow, has conferred on him the degree of D.D. Private letters by the Congo announce the news.

There was a full house at the Colon Theatre on Wednesday night to hear El Guarani. Cardinali sang very well and was applauded, and just the same may be said of all the other singers, but the orchestra and chorus were not quite so good as usual. Silvestre, the new basso, is a hit; he has a fine voice, and his school is of the purest and best. The Whistling Brigade was present in force, and very little would have brought on another disgraceful and dangerous scene, such as that of last Saturday night. The 'claque' should be suppressed, to deprive the Brigade of any pretext for a fresh disturbance.

There was a crowded meeting at the English Literary Society's Rooms on Wednesday night, to hear Dr. Hiron's lecture on Irish Popular Literature. The lecturer took, as the basis of his discourse, an article which appeared in the "Edinburgh Review" for January, 1882, on "Irish Discontent," and proceeded to show how this discontent was fomented by the wide circulation of "nationalist" popular literature. He illustrated his subject by reading copious extracts from these works. The lecture lasted an hour and a-quarter, and was much applauded. At the close it was criticised by Messrs. Dineen and Carroll, who differed in their views from the essayist.

The following is the list of the officers of H.M.S. 'Sylvia' which just arrived in the Boca. We welcome them all to the Plate—

Capt. Wharton,
Lieut. H. Dyke,
" C. Baker,
" A. Field,
" A. Havergal,
" H. Anson,
" Wyndham Richardson,
Dr. W. D. Wodsworth,
Mr. Henry Marsh,
" Samuel Rock.

Don't forget that Mrs. Mansilla de Garcia's drama Los Carpani is produced to-night at the Opera House. High Life will be there "en masse."

The railway station at Pergamino is finished, and will shortly be opened to the public.

We heartily wish we had half a dozen subscribers like a Parisian gentleman who died lately and left a large landed property to the editor of "the paper which had so much amused and instructed him for 30 years." This is a noble example in the midst of the gross ingratitude generally displayed by a flint-hearted public towards the toiling members of the Fourth Estate.

The Municipality has voted a salary of 800 Nats. monthly to the Rt. Honble the Lord Mayor. His Lordship is worth treble this salary to the city. On Sunday at 3 o'clock, one of his most notable improvements, the Recoleta Grotto, will be inaugurated, and we must congratulate him on the crowning of the edifice, after two years' hard work. No special invitations have been issued, but the whole population will be warmly welcomed.

Advices from the South report that half the country side from Azul to Bahia Blanca is under water, and punts and boats of all kinds would meet with ready sale there now. The recent rains were terrific down there.

A tailor, a carpenter, and a baker, all of this city, got the lion's share of the big prizes in the Capital Lottery last week. We don't know to whom yesterday's "grande" fell.

The Revista Medica gives a rather gloomy account of the health of the city and says that small-pox is still on the increase.

A steam tramway from Almagro to Capilla del Señor is contemplated. We suppose the Merryweather engine will be employed.

The weather yesterday was the reverse of merry—dull, damp, foggy, fusty and as disagreeable as it could possibly be.

The Custom House of Buenos Aires has yielded in this merry month of May more than in any other since it was built—1,750,000 pats.

Mr. Pablo Halbach led Miss Bonorino to the hymeneal altar on Wednesday night. We sincerely wish the happy couple long life and prosperity.

The troops have had a stiff brush with the Indians in Corrientes, killing a cacique and retaking large numbers of cattle which the savages had carried off.

We have to thank Messrs. Dewey and Co. for sending us yesterday the latest papers from England—May 5th.

Governor Roach returned from La Plata on Wednesday night. We feel much pleasure in saluting H.E. on his return to town.

There was a mad dog hunt in the "potrero" of the Boca Tram Co. on Wednesday. A sergeant and three policemen formed the field and, after severe galloping, shot and hacked the quarry into little bits.

The European papers give some interesting particulars of the private life of the Czar. Like Mr. Gladstone, his favourite recreation is cutting wood with a hatchet; and he also enjoys wrestling with his brothers Vladimir and Alejo. The former always beats him, but His Majesty is about a match for Alejo. The Czar's valet, Ivan Savalieff, is a Russian John Brown, and all the Ministers and nobility improve on Lord Beaconsfield and call him "my very good friend.

Mr. Pinedo, Chief of the Vasura Department of the Municipality, died yesterday morning, leaving a widow and young family to deplore his loss. His salary was raised only on Wednesday night, but he did not live to even hear the news. Such is life.

PAID A BILL.

A Detroit lawyer took in a new boy, and as he suffered to some extent from the depredations of the former one, he decided to try the new lad's honesty at once. He therefore placed $15 in bills under a weight on his desk, and walked out without a word. On his return, half an hour later, the bills were gone, and seventy-five cents in silver had taken their place.

"Boy! When I stepped out to get a draft on London I left $15 under this weight."

"Yes, Sir."

"And now I find only seventy-five cents?"

"Yes, Sir, but you see you hadn't been gone five minutes when a man came in with a bill of $14.25, and I paid it." I guess the change is correct?"

"You—you paid a bill."

"Yes, Sir; there it is, all receipted. The man said it had slipped your mind for the last four years and so——"

He didn't get any further before he was rushed for the stairs, and he isn't in the law business any more.

"SHEPHERDS" BEWARE!!!

Lezama, 23rd May 1883.

It is a sad and serious thing for the welfare of this fine healthy country, the want of "Just and vigorous laws", also "Trial by Jury." At present the laws, if so you may call them, are too indulgent to the numerous cut-throats, robbers and thieves, and it is more than your life is worth, in the camps of South America, even to defend your own property: For instance, a few nights ago, a shepherd on the South Camps, in Cuartel 9, partido Chascomus, heard a noise amongst his sheep which he had left on the 'rodeo' before retiring to bed; he accordingly got up, and on going out found the flock had moved away. After a few minutes' search, the weather being very foggy, he came upon them, but they were in a very disturbed state, and to his surprise he saw three horses standing together, duly equipped, but no riders. He knelt on the ground for a moment and perceived three persons catching sheep; he immediately got up and discharged his rifle, but the robber's were too smart for the poor shepherd (who was on foot) but they left their plunder, a fat 'capon,' (which they had killed) behind. Now if this poor shepherd had not heard the running of the sheep, it is hard to say what would have been his 'patron's' loss. Once upon a time there was a "Policia Comision" that used to come round from Chascomus to see if any depredations had been committed, but this worthy "Comision" seems to have died a natural death, or else retired into private life, for they are not to be seen now. This is just the time "a patrol" is much wanted in the camps for

It is not What

Are generally termed 'Blood Purifiers' that people need when they are out of sorts, but good digestion. It is well digested food—bread and butter, beefsteak and mutton chops—that makes good blood and keeps it pure. Put the digestive organs in a healthy condition with a few doses of Dr Schenck's Mandrake Pills, and nature will do the rest. The blood cannot be impure if digestion is good.

ON 'CHANGE.

May 31st, 1883

Patacon	25.00
Cedulas E	85½
National Bank Shares	105½

The demand for money this morning was large and paper ruled scarce; at some of the private banks gold was offered to applicants. Enough money was secured on stocks to prevent a general headlong fall in Cedulas and shares. As had been anticipated, both shares and Cedulas ruled weak, and the bears drove down prices; the bulls made an effectual stand at the closing rates of official hours.

The liquidation of the month is a very paltry affair in National Bank Shares, "vencimientos" only amounting to 29,500 shares. The figure is the most eloquent proof of the decayed fortunes of the former palmy speculation, when from 5 to 10,000 shares changed hands in a day and differences ranged between 10 and even 20 o/o. The settlement shewed at a glance the great hiatus at the ring; it cannot be denied, and the fact is palpable that the outsiders have abandoned the speculation. The public will not enter into the spirit of the game and all efforts to enliven the market are in vain. The only active day on the Bolsa during the month has been this liquidation; 6,000 shares changed hands during official hours—4,000 for cash and 2,000 for the end of next month. Rates for cash opened at 105½, fell to 105, rose to 105½ and closed at 105½, sellers. Rates for the end of next month opened at 106½ and closed at 106½. The bulls managed to prevent a further fall in the stock by passing over operations to the end of next month at ⅜ to 1½ o/o. The market closed with an appearance of firmness, but the feeling is weak.

The "vencimientos" in Cedulas were heavy amounting to $3,140,000. Operations during official hours embraced only $300,000, and ruled less active than in shares. Over 200,000 changed hands for cash, and 70,000 were sold for the end of the month. Rates for cash opened at 85½ and closed at 85½; rates for the end of June opened at 85½ and closed at 85¾. In spite of the efforts of the bulls and of the Cedula King, the market weakened and closed heavy. Both Cedulas and Shares closed at official hours with the same feeling of heaviness.

Something is reported in exchange, outside fair amounts done at current rate, 49¾. The money market ruled tight. This being the last day of the month, paper was in much demand.

Sixteen square leagues of land, situated on the 6th Meridian, and beyond the 110 leagues of land owned by the South American Land Company, were reported sold to-day at $75,000 % per league. Buyer, a wealthy Argentine capitalist and estanciero. These lands are straight north of Trenel. The activity in land business continues unabated, and scores of purchases are made and kept under reserve.

The export of cereals from this port during the month has not been as important as anticipated. About one hundred thousand bags of wheat, maize and linseed have been shipped. Next month double that number will be shipped.

It may interest estancieros in this country to know that the Chinese cattleholders in the Celestial Empire are following their example. A Chinese estanciero, for the first time in the annals of history, purchased last month fifty head of prize cattle in England. He picked the animals and forwarded them himself. Thus a new market has been opened to British blood-stock.

Advices from the Mount state that the Bolsa is in a very dull condition. All stocks are weak and Treasury Bills are falling fast.

Mr. K. M. Doulton was welcomed to-day on his return from the West Coast, where he visited the principal cities of the Transandine Republic.

Eleven leagues of land, near the Alsina ditch at General Dehesa, are reported sold at the rate of $324,000 % per league. The Nacion announces this sale; this is a very good price for lands so far out and in that direction.

The rise in "corderito" shares in the market has interfered with several large orders from Berlin firms to their agents in this city. The Hamburg firms are paying as high as 28 rls. a very heavy price for the article. Sheepskins are also very firm, and French buyers continue to pay the current heavy prices.

The Riachuelo continues to be the scene of the greatest activity; a score of vessels entered yesterday again laden with produce from the rivers. Six steamers are loading for Brazil and ports of the Republic. Steam-cranes are being erected on the new embankment to meet the great demands of shipmasters. The Boca is the most active place in Buenos Aires, and the quantity of produce arriving is incredible.

The sales at the ring during official hours were:—

Cedulas—

For cash E 220,500 at 85½-⅜-½-½-½

For June 30th E 70,000 at 85¾-¾-⅞, disponibles at 85⅞

Vencimientos, Series E $f.1,347,000.

Liquidation, Series E 85

National Bank Shares—

For cash 4,000 at 105½-⅜-½-105-½-½-½

For June 30th 2,000 at 106¼-106-⅜

Sales, 6,000

Vencimientos, 29,480

Liquidation, 105

Several sales of cattle "al corte" in the north and west, are reported at from 175 to 190, and as high as 200 m/c has been paid, but the rodeo was mestizo; these are very low prices for stock and most advantageous to parties starting new estancias.

Land in the Venado Tuerto is becoming extremely valuable. We hear of some 7 leagues which last year would have been considered well sold at 10,000 pats per league, now the owner refuses to sell at 350,000 m/c per square league; and a large piece of land in the Loreto, which was offering in the market last month at 180,000 m/c per league, is now withdrawn, the owner preferring to hold the land and refusing to sell under ten thousand pats per league.

The vote in Congress on the Meat Export Bill is a most important matter, and means much for the estancieros who will now have some prospect of new and wider markets. We hope yet to sell San Blas and Rio Negro beef at the Leadenhall and Smithfield markets, London.

The Diario of this evening publishes the very able article entitled "A Blast of the East Wind, being a very powerful warning to the London Money Market of the dangerously inflated state of stocks, etc. We call attention to the matter to show how shrewdly the talented editor of the Diario watches everything calculated to affect the money market.

We take the following from a London colleague:—

"Messrs. Morton, Rose and Co. offer for subscription £1,024,590 in bonds of the Province of Sta. Fé, Arg. Repub., at the price of 90 per cent. The loan is authorised by a law dated March 14, 1883, and is issued for the purpose of redeeming the outstanding 7 per cent. bonds of the loan of 1874, with a 2½ per cent. sinking fund, and to increase the capital of the Provincial Bank of Santa Fe. In addition to being secured upon the general revenue of the Province and the proceeds of sales of Government lands, the loan is specially charged upon the assets of the Provincial Bank, which undertakes the annual payment for interest and sinking fund."

Some further details are known with regard to the mammoth land sale which we announced last week. The 500 leagues in question are situated in the Province of Mendoza, and have been bought by a leading British capitalist at the rate of $f. 1,500 per league cash. The rivers Atuel and Diamante pass through this British principality, which will be colonized, irrigated, and stocked with one hundred thousand head of cattle. Never before was there so much activity in land in Mendoza and San Luis. The sale of several hundred more leagues is being arranged by several leading land brokers with British and German companies. Foreign capitalists are seizing a favorable opportunity for investing money in land. The land sold in Mendoza for $f. 1,500 per league will be worth double and treble that figure before two years, when the railway will run from Buenos Aires to the foot of the Andes. Millions of money are coming to the Plate to be invested in land, and prices are stiffening every day, not only in this province, but also to the confines in the West.

Several land sales are being negotiated in the market, comprising tracts of 20, 30 and 50 leagues; these transactions are kept under much reserve.

A league and a half of land in Lincoln, South-east of Lavalle, was registered yesterday in the Office of the Provincial Government for $800,000 m/c. This means $600,000 m/c per league. Lincoln is the largest 'Partido' in the Province, the most heavily stocked with cattle. New estancias are being daily started.

As little is known to the public about the stock of wool in the market, the following figures may be found interesting; they are the most exact published up to date—

	Arrobes
Stock in Once	140,000
Do. South Plaza and Barracas	300,000
	440,000
Baled, but not shipped:—
North Plaza	1,000 bales
South Plaza	3,000 do
4,000 or say	140,000
	580,000

Herein is not included the stock that may exist in the camp, and which is calculated at more or less the same figure as the quantity in the plazas. The figures shew that this year's clip are larger than that of the last season, 925,000 bales.

There was a flare-up in Cedulas during afternoon. One hundred thousand Cedulas were sold at 84¾, when a leading Argentine broker stepped in and offered to buy up the whole issue of Series E at this rate; whereupon prices stiffened and the market closed at 85⅝. Nothing scarcely in Shares.

The Colony in Gainza
Lands payable at eight years' credit without interest.
We have just concluded the sale of the 56 leagues of land we offered in Gainza at $250,000 % per league, payable 10 o/o or say $25,000 % cash, and the balance in eight yearly payment of $28,125 % without interest; last payment comes due in 1891; 28 purchasers of all nationalities bought these 56 leagues.
The land is noted for its goodness, and Clark's railway from Buenos Aires to Valparaiso passes near it, and will place settlers within reach of this city in one day.
The purchasers of these lands will probably double their capital in five years, although they have eight years to pay for them; because in the hands of 28 proprietors, in 5 years time we shall see all the elements of pastoral and agricultural progress firmly fixed in this colony.
We have still some 20 Leagues for sale, and we invite sheep and cattle farmers whether half-leaguers or ten-leaguers, to come to our office to 178 Calle San Martin to see the plans and study this business.
